COUNTY RECOVERS FROM FLOOD DAMAGE

Chillicothe Hard Hit as Levee Cracks

Scioto Bounds 15½ Feet Above Danger Stage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The flood-swollen Scioto River hit 32.6 feet at Chillicothe today, three feet above predictions. About one-third of the 163-year-old city was under water as the Scioto went 15½ feet above flood stage.

The homes of an estimated 10,000 of Chillicothe's 27,000 residents were affected, but by 9 a. m. the Scioto was reported down some four inches.

There were reports that three persons were missing. Upstream at Circleville the muddy Scioto already had dropped nine inches, as the flood made its way to the Ohio River on its way to the Gulf of Mexico.

Thousands of persons throughout the state were homeless but today's battleground apparently centered at Chillicothe, a one-time capital of Ohio and the Northwest Territory.

Sandbags and a levee at Chillicothe gave way in sections early this morning, allowing the water to seep through and over the city's east end. A state of emergency was declared by Mayor Nicholas H. Holmes.

Highways were open to emergency vehicles to the south and west of Chillicothe, as the water reached levels hit before only in 1913. However, the fact that Chillicothe had more than 24 hours of warning of the approaching flood was expected to reduce damage and lessen the danger of casualties.

Chillicothe's disposal plant went out during the night, but gas, electricity and water services remained normal.

The Scioto makes an S-bend in Chillicothe and hills on both sides rise 500 to 600 feet above the lowest level. The flood will not reach the main business district.

Mayor Holmes asked Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to include Chillicothe in the state's disaster area list. National guardsmen already are on duty there.

Upstream at Circleville, where the land is practically flat, everything was reported under control. In fact, Circleville officials were sending assistance to Chillicothe, with boats and school buses ready to move people north if it becomes necessary.

The highway to Lancaster from Circleville was open and the Pickaway County seat did not have highway access north, west or south. The Scioto crested at Circleville at 27 feet about 7 a. m. Only about 50 families had to leave their homes.

Over in the Hocking River Valley, the flood crest passed Athens at 9 a. m. at a 19.2-foot top, but there was no flooding in the city—except extreme lowland areas—and everything was reported under control.

The extreme cold temperatures while making for misery for the homeless and miserable conditions for flood fighters, slowed up the run-off and U. S. Army Engineers said the Ohio River would have but little flooding.

A crest about four to six feet above Cincinnati's 52-foot flood stage is expected sometime over the weekend, but flood-wise residents in businesses along that stream had little to fear.

Rivers overflowed at Zanesville, Warren and Fremont, the major metropolitan areas affected Thursday.

Flood Sidelights

According to local police, a message was received here early this morning from Chillicothe asking if we had lost a bridge here. Chillicothe officials said one just floated through their city.

Simon Bradley, S. Scioto St., became an unfortunate victim of the flood when raging waters carried away all 20 of his hogs which were penned near Routes 22 and 56. It was first reported yesterday that some of the hogs were rescued, but the information proved to be false.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, probably the busiest office around yesterday and today, served as headquarters for evacuation crews. Squads with boats would rush to a danger scene, evacuate those in peril and then report back to Sheriff Radcliff for another assignment. The department's radio and telephones were in constant use sending and receiving urgent messages.

Local school buses were made ready early today in case they would be needed to evacuate persons from flood-stricken Chillicothe.

The Circleville Fire Department dispatched two pumps to the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. substation on W. Mount St. when it was learned that water was seeping into the building. Officials said if considerable amounts of water had reached some of the equipment there, the city possibly could have been without electricity.

According to the local sheriff's department, water here had dropped about seven inches by 7 a. m. today.

Several boats and crews left here early this morning to help with the evacuation in Chillicothe. The local volunteers were forced to take a roundabout route to reach the beleaguered city.

Robert Elsea and Charles Glitt, attempting to complete an evacuation at the Howard Thomas farm on Route 22, were stranded last night at the farm. According to reports, they encountered boat troubles which would have made a return trip extremely dangerous.

According to reports here, the Scioto River at Chillicothe measured 33 feet at 6 a. m. today. The report said the river was raising at the rate of one inch per hour.

The hottest rumor here early today was that the Route 22 bridge over the Scioto River had broken away. However, the one-year-old structure was standing fast at daylight today.

Employees of the local Ohio Fuel Gas and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. rushed to the Ted Lewis Park area yesterday to shut off gas and remove meters when water surged into the low ground surrounding Rosewood Ave.

Local basketball fans will have to seek other entertainment in that most games scheduled for tonight have been postponed.

One of the most serious problems to face the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and the Circleville Police Force yesterday was the heavy flow of traffic headed north and west. The situation became complicated when local sight-seers entangled traffic all the more by attempting to catch a glimpse of the raging Scioto River just west of the city.

A REPORT at about 5:30 a. m. today revealed that an emergency sandbag levee in Chillicothe gave way, causing additional flooding in the east side of the city. Water reportedly was within two blocks of the downtown area.

A Civil Defense mobile unit from Franklin County, complete with an 18-foot rescue boat, offered assistance to hard-pressed evacuation crews here last night. The unit was advised to standby in case it was needed.

Local deputies said nearly all the George W. Van Camp Construction Co. office and equipment were under water yesterday. The site is located on the Island Road near the Sturm and Dillard Co.

The local DuPont plant, in an effort to help the situation here, has offered water to all residents in need. Company officials said the tap is located at the north side of the guard house.

Those desiring water are requested to bring their own containers and use the company parking lot to avoid traffic congestion.

DuPont officials said that if large quantities are needed, tanker trucks could be filled at the plant. They said the trucks should be accompanied by a sanitation permit from local health authorities.

Grand opening of the new Salvation Army store, at 209 W. Main St., scheduled for today, has been postponed. The store will offer clothing, shoes, furniture, appliances, radios.

At least seven carloads of deputies and volunteers waited for about two hours last night to assist in an abortive attempt to evacuate a Waple family, who live in a low area between Route 23 and the Scioto, about four miles north of the city.

A helicopter from Port Columbus flew down, went over the Waple home, which was without lights, landed, then flew back to its port. It was decided that the Waples probably were safe, since water had not reached much higher than the middle of the first floor of the two-story residence.

Basketball game, pitting Ashville against Monroe on the Indian floor has definitely been cancelled due to dangerous road conditions. Walnut will travel to Williamsport tonight for a Pickaway County League contest.

The three schools of the Logan Elm School District are in operation today. They are Washington, Pickaway and Saltcreek Twps. schools.

This southeastern part of the county was hit the least of any area. All roads of the area were opened including the Kingston Pike.

All schools of the Westfall School District were closed. They include Williamsport, Perry, Monroe, Jackson, Darby and Muhlenberg.

Jackson Twp. school reported power trouble but it was being corrected today.

The Teays Valley School District was in full operation except for Scioto Twp., which attempted to open today but the absence of seven teachers residing in Columbus

Scioto Crest Falls Short Of '13 Mark

The Scioto River reached its crest at approximately 8 p. m. last night at 26.97 feet, according to Pickaway County Weatherman, Harry A. Styers.

This record flood was the worst since 1913, when the river rose to 28 feet and inundated a considerable portion of the county and especially Circleville.

The reading at noon today showed the river had receded 2.95 feet since its crest. The noon reading was 24.02 feet. Considerable ice and drift is lodged against the W. Main St. bridge at present, but not enough to cause any damage, stated Styers.

The Columbus Weather Bureau said at noon that no ice flows or drift of an appreciable size was reported heading down river.

The Bureau said it could possibly drop to 10 below tonight and will continue cold throughout Saturday. It also said no precipitation will fall in the near future to cause any damage.

THE SCIOTO started its torrent of raging water early Monday as heavy rains up to five and more inches fell in northern Ohio and heavy local rains began to fall.

The river read 4.50 feet on Tuesday and continued to rise to 8.89 feet Wednesday at 8 a. m. Disaster signs began appearing Wednesday as the river started rising at a steady pace and the Columbus Weather Bureau reported flood signs.

It asked Styers to read the river reading as often as possible and phone in reports. Styers began his constant vigil at 6 a. m. yesterday when the river stood at 19.72 feet.

At 7:30 a. m. it read 20.62. Again at 10 a. m. the river had risen to 21.80 and by noon it stood at 23.39. According to Styers, who was assistant weatherman for many years before being named to the official head post, the river rose faster between the hours of 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. than in its history.

At 1 p. m. the river was increasing speed and rose to 24.45 feet. The 2 p. m. reading was 24.87 and by 5 p. m. yesterday it had risen to 25.66 feet.

By 7 p. m. the Scioto stood at 26.97 and remained at that height for many hours before it started receding. The 8 a. m. reading stood at 24.67, a drop of 2.3 feet since its crest.

The Scioto was at most times clear but for several hours it turned into a mass of huge ice flows and large amounts of drift, which was composed of mammoth trees, farm equipment, hog feeders and some farm animals.

The Route 22 bridge west of here remained dry throughout the river's rising, but for short strips at each end. The main "T" beam underneath the bridge was covered.

Styers stated he crossed the bridge at noon and traveled as far as the Howard Thomas farm, which was littered with wreckage as far as the Jake Scharenberg farm, farther up the road.

School Events Cancelled

Circleville High School's scheduled basketball game with Wilmington here tonight has been postponed due to flood conditions. CHS Coach Dick Snouffer said the game will be rescheduled at a later date.

Junior High Coach Jack Weikert said his Saturday morning 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade cage program here has been cancelled.

The high school shut down operations at 10 a. m. yesterday and remained closed today. It will probably re-open Monday at regular time.

St. Joseph's elementary school is closed today and will reopen Monday in regular session.

DiSalle Asks Cabinet To Work on Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today asked all his Cabinet members to stay on the job during the coming weekend to help handle state services to flood-stricken areas.

The governor made his request at the outset of a special Cabinet meeting in his office.

City Gets Water, But, Boil It!!

Circleville's 11,000 residents had water again today. At 11:30 a. m. deep wells of the Container Corporation of America were tied into the city system.

All water must be boiled before consumption. Ervin Leist, manager of public utilities, completed arrangements with Container officials about 10:05 a. m. today. The switch was made in just under 90 minutes.

Leist said pressure will build back up to normal slowly, but that water will be available for sanitary uses, heating plants and factories. Later today, if water of Darby Creek recedes enough, Water Department employees hope to reach the pumping station, about a mile northwest of here.

Leist said they will try to clean up the station, pump out the pits in which pumps are located, then begin operations with small motors and engines.

It will be some hours before the two large electric motors can be installed to put the system back to normal.

Meanwhile, Health Department officials declared that all water used from the Circleville system should be boiled at least five minutes before using. This precaution, it is hoped, will prevent an outbreak of typhoid fever.

Dr. H. H. Swope, president of the Board of Health, declared that boiling of water is of the utmost importance. It will have to be boiled every day until tests can be made and a clean bill of health received from the state Health Department.

Water from the CCA deep wells was run into the city system through fire hydrants, Leist said. It also will relieve possibility of a disastrous fire.

Russia's ICBM Stockpile To Far Exceed U.S., Belief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) contended today that Soviet Russia will have four times more intercontinental ballistic missiles in 1961 than are planned by the Eisenhower administration.

Symington, secretary of the Air Force in the Democratic administration of former President Truman, said that "far from planning to close the current ICBM gap, the (Eisenhower) administration is actually allowing it to widen."

Symington's statements in a prepared Senate speech disagreed with reports of comparative U. S.-Soviet ICB strength given Thursday by Secretary of Defense McElroy in a news conference.

McElroy said there is no positive evidence that Russia is ahead in ICBM's capable of combat use.

"We do not believe that Russia has an ICBM capable of operation against this country at this time," McElroy said.

The defense chief added that he believes reports Russia will have 300 ICBM's by 1960 are exaggerated.

Symington told the Senate that President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and other administration spokesmen had failed to answer his challenges to tell the public the facts about relative U. S.-Soviet strength in missiles and other military power.

"The ICBM is the most dreaded new weapon of modern war," he said. "In effect, it is a hydrogen bomb, deliverable with great speed and accuracy, to targets anywhere on earth."

Symington said this country has successfully test-fired ICBM's and set up production lines that could produce more than the Soviet if funds were provided.

"The reason we are not planning full production of ICBM's is because this administration is not planning to spend the necessary funds," he said.

Symington said "the coming year may afford us our last chance to initiate any real effort to catch up with the Russians in the most important fields of modern weaponry."

Ike Names Group In Inflation Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an anti-inflation move, President Eisenhower today created a government committee to study all federal activities affecting prices and costs.

"We need to make sure that we are not contributing to the nation's inflationary problems by the way in which we run our own government business," Eisenhower said in a statement.

The President said in his budget message to Congress earlier this week that he planned to set up such a study group.

He also plans to create soon, as outlined in his State of the Union message, another committee of civic leaders and government officials to survey the nation's economic growth potential.

No Casualties Reported Here

Pickaway County slowly recovered today from a near record flood, thankful there were no known casualties.

The entire community was braced to aid Chillicothe, in dire trouble south of here.

At least 80 families throughout Pickaway County were homeless as the swirling Scioto River and Big Darby Creek unleashed their awesome force.

Thousands of acres of farmland were inundated. Loss of livestock was reported to be extremely heavy. Property damage may go into the $100,000 bracket.

FLOOD CREST was reached at 9 p. m. last night. The Scioto crested at 26.97 feet—about 13 feet above flood stage.

Circleville, without full water facilities for 21 hours and 25 minutes, had water again at 11:30 a. m. today. Deep wells at the Container Corporation of America were supplying the system.

All water for human consumption should be boiled to prevent an outbreak of typhoid fever.

As the swollen river began to recede, traffic out of the city was moving slowly. For a period, the city was isolated, with all routes cut off. But at noon today, Route 22 to the west was open but dangerous, due to ice and washouts.

Route 23, both north and south was impassable. Route 22 and Route 188 were open to the east.

The bitter cold made recovery rough. As the waters moved away, an icy layer was left on nearly everything that had been covered. Debris littered the scene from county line to county line.

All schools, except those in Logan Elm District, were closed.

Circleville stores reported they were low on meat and bread supplies. However, the easing of the water situation, gave residents no cause for uneasiness.

Williamsport was operating normally today except for a lack of water. The precious liquid was being trucked into town.

KINGSTON was home for more than 200 evacuees from Chillicothe. The homeless were being cared for in private homes and at the Kingston School.

Ashville was back to normal today, as the raging Walnut Creek receded.

The 80-plus families evacuated in Pickaway County were being cared for in the homes of friends and relatives. Sheriff Charles Radcliff estimated that many more families were forced to leave their homes, but no report was made on them.

About 22 families were evacuated from the Canal Road area. Another eight families lost their homes at Dewey Park, on Route 104 at the Big Darby Creek. Seven Jackson Twp. families had to move.

In Circleville, eight families were forced from the Neuding Trailer Court on Island Road.

Another eight had to leave their homes on Rosewood Ave. at Ted Lewis Park. Several other families who live along the railroad near Forest Cemetery also were evacuated.

Volunteer workers by the hundreds offered their services throughout the area. State Patrol,

Sheriff's Department, Fire and Police Departments, State Highway Department and City Service Department all worked full-time to ease the suffering.

City Water Department men did yeoman duty in attempting to keep the city supplied with water.

About 30 persons were at the Red Cross disaster center in the First Methodist Church. They were being fed and housed there. Center officials are ready for possible evacuation of persons from Chillicothe, should help be needed.

Locally, the Harden Chevrolet Co. and Ankrum Lumber Co. suffered the heaviest damage. Water closed down operation of both businesses.

IN THE COUNTY it was reported that a bridge over Darby Creek at Darbyville was seriously damaged by the flood. A covered bridge over Deer Creek at Crownover Mill Road, in Monroe Twp., was reported washed away.

It will be some time before an accurate estimate of the amount of property damage can be made. Loss of entire homes was reported in some areas.

False reports of persons in danger and other reports that persons were stranded worked hardships on rescue parties. In many cases persons refused to leave their homes in the face of the flood threat. Later some of them had to be evacuated.

Another Baby Is Kidnaped In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Police today had one clue—a woman's handwriting—in the kidnaping of an ailing, 23-day-old child from a West Side apartment Thursday. It was the city's second baby abduction this year.

A specimen of the kidnaper's handwriting was obtained in the form of a note written at the mother's request before the latter left on a wild-goose hunt for a nonexistent Bronx apartment.

In the note the woman kidnaper—said to be pregnant—wrote what she represented to be her name, address, and telephone number. Police assumed the name was fictitious after finding that the Bronx address was a fake. The phone number turned out to be an unlisted one and that of persons not possibly involved in the case, police said.

In view of reports that the kidnaper is an expectant mother, the handwritten note was to be used in a canvas of hospital records and medical offices.

Police and the FBI had teamed up in an all-night search of the area around the Manhattan apartment from where John Tavarez disappeared with a woman his mother had met just two days ago.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Tavarez, live with their two other children in a 1½-room apartment.

Kingston Comes To Rescue Of Beleaguered Chillicothe

The village of Kingston yesterday rallied to the aid of less fortunate fellow Ross County residents with food, shelter, bedding and clothing.

The Kingston Volunteer Fire Department was alerted at noon yesterday by the Ross County Civil Defense Department and has been on duty ever since. The Kingston school was closed due to impassable roads and many of its teachers were stranded in Chillicothe.

At approximately 10 p. m. last night, school cooks and Kingston volunteer women packed up food, bedding and necessary supplies and set up a disaster center in the Kingston School building.

Few evacuees arrived until a Chillicothe radio station broadcast the availability of the Kingston facilities. Since then more than 200 persons have arrived at the center, been fed and at least 100 taken into the homes of Kingston citizens.

THE KINGSTON FIRE Department has had men on the job since noon yesterday, including two-way radio operator, Bill Im-mell.

Volunteers have been in the Chillicothe area since late yesterday afternoon. Four men have been operating a bulldozer, while another has kept in constant contact with a U. S. Naval helicopter in the Adena area by radio from his own automobile.

Norman Godden employed his private airplane and has been conducting air survey over the beleaguered Chillicothe area since dawn.

The river read 4.50 feet on Tuesday and continued to rise to 8.89 feet Wednesday at 8 a.m. Disaster signs began appearing Wednesday as the river started rising at a steady pace and the Columbus Weather Bureau reported flood signs.

It asked Styers to read the river reading as often as possible and phone in reports. Styers began his constant vigil at 6 a.m. yesterday when the river stood at 19.72 feet.

At 7:30 a.m. it read 20.62. Again at 10 a.m. the river had risen to 21.80 and by noon it stood at 23.39. According to Styers, who was assistant weatherman for many years before being named to the official head post, the river rose faster during the hours of 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. than in its history.

At 1 p.m. the river was increasing speed and rose to 24.45 feet. The 2 p.m. reading was 24.87 and by 5 p.m. yesterday it had risen to 25.66 feet.

By 7 p.m. the Scioto stood at 26.97 and remained at that height for many hours before it started receding. The 8 a.m. reading stood at 24.67, a drop of 2.3 feet since its crest.

The Scioto was at most times clear but for several hours it turned into a mass of huge ice floes and large amounts of drift, which was composed of mammoth trees, farm equipment, hog feeders and some farm animals.

The Route 22 bridge west of here remained dry throughout the river's rising, but for short strips at each end. The main "T" beam underneath the bridge was covered.

Styers stated he crossed the bridge at noon and traveled as far as the Howard Thomas farm, which was littered with wreckage as far as the Jake Scharenberg farm, farther up the road.

School Events Cancelled

Circleville High School's scheduled basketball game with Wilmington here tonight has been postponed due to flood conditions. CHS Coach Dick Snouffer said the game will be rescheduled at a later date.

Junior High Coach Jack Weikert said his Saturday morning 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grade cage program here has been cancelled.

The high school shut down operations at 10 a.m. yesterday and remained closed today. It will probably re-open Monday at regular time.

St. Joseph's elementary school is closed today and will reopen Monday in regular session.

DiSalle Asks Cabinet To Work on Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today asked all his Cabinet members to stay on the job during the coming weekend to help handle state services to flood-stricken areas.

The governor made his request at the outset of a special Cabinet meeting in his office.

City Gets Water, But, Boil It!!

Circleville's 11,000 residents had water again today. At 11:30 a.m. deep wells of the Container Corporation of America were tied into the city system.

All water must be boiled before consumption. Ervin Leist, manager of public utilities, completed arrangements with Container officials about 10:05 a.m. today. The switch was made in just under 90 minutes.

Leist said pressure will build back up to normal slowly, but that water will be available for sanitary uses, heating plants and factories. Later today, if water of Darby Creek recedes enough, Water Department employees hope to reach the pumping station, about a mile northwest of here.

Leist said they will try to clean up the station, pump out the pits in which pumps are located, then begin operations with small motors and engines.

It will be some hours before the two large electric motors can be installed to put the system back to normal.

Meanwhile, Health Department officials declared that all water used from the Circleville system should be boiled at least five minutes before using. This precaution, it is hoped, will prevent an outbreak of typhoid fever.

Dr. H. H. Swopes, president of the Board of Health, declared that boiling of water is of the utmost importance. It will have to be boiled every day until tests can be made and a clean bill of health received from the state Health Department.

Water from the CCA deep wells was run into the city system through fire hydrants, Leist said. It also will relieve possibility of a disastrous fire.

Russia's ICBM Stockpile To Far Exceed U.S., Belief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) contended today that Soviet Russia will have four times more intercontinental ballistic missiles in 1961 than are planned by the Eisenhower administration.

Symington, secretary of the Air Force in the Democratic administration of former President Truman, said that "far from planning to close the current ICBM gap, the (Eisenhower) administration is actually allowing it to widen."

Symington's statements in a prepared Senate speech disagreed with reports of comparative U.S.-Soviet ICB strength given Thursday by Secretary of Defense McElroy in a news conference.

McElroy said there is no positive evidence that Russia is ahead in ICBM's capable of combat use.

"We do not believe that Russia has an ICBM capable of operation against this country at this time," McElroy said.

The defense chief added that he believes reports Russia will have 300 ICBM's by 1960 are exaggerated.

Symington told the Senate that President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and other administration spokesmen had failed to answer his challenges to tell the public the facts about relative U.S.-Soviet strength in missiles and other military power.

"The ICBM is the most dreaded new weapon of modern war," he said. "In effect, it is a hydrogen bomb, deliverable with great speed and accuracy, to targets anywhere on earth."

Symington said this country has successfully test-fired ICBM's and set up production lines that could produce more than the Soviet if funds were provided.

"The reason we are not planning full production of ICBM's is because this administration is not planning to spend the necessary funds," he said.

Symington said "the coming year may afford us our last chance to initiate any real effort to catch up with the Russians in the most important fields of modern weaponry."

Ike Names Group In Inflation Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an anti-inflation move, President Eisenhower today created a government committee to study all federal activities affecting prices and costs.

"We need to make sure that we are not contributing to the nation's inflationary problems by the way in which we run our own government business," Eisenhower said in a statement.

The President said in his budget message to Congress earlier this week that he planned to set up such a study group.

He also plans to create soon, as outlined in his State of the Union message, another committee of civic leaders and government officials to survey the nation's economic growth potential.

No Casualties Reported Here

Pickaway County slowly recovered today from a near record flood, thankful there were no known casualties.

The entire community was braced to aid Chillicothe, in dire trouble south of here.

At least 80 families throughout Pickaway County were homeless as the swirling Scioto River and Big Darby Creek unleashed their awesome force.

Thousands of acres of farmland were inundated. Loss of livestock was reported to be extremely heavy. Property damage may go into the $100,000 bracket.

FLOOD CREST was reached at 9 p.m. last night. The Scioto crested at 26.97 feet—about 13 feet above flood stage.

Circleville, without full water facilities for 21 hours and 25 minutes, had water again at 11:30 a.m. today. Deep wells at the Container Corporation of America were supplying the system.

All water for human consumption should be boiled to prevent an outbreak of typhoid fever.

As the swollen river began to recede, traffic out of the city was moving slowly. For a period, the city was isolated, with all routes cut off. But at noon today, Route 22 to the west was open but dangerous, due to ice and washouts.

Route 23, both north and south was impassable. Route 22 and Route 188 were open to the east.

The bitter cold made recovery rough. As the waters moved away, an icy layer was left on nearly everything that had been covered. Debris littered the scene from county line to county line.

All schools, except those in Logan Elm District, were closed.

Circleville stores reported they were low on meat and bread supplies. However, the easing of the water situation, gave residents no cause for uneasiness.

Williamsport was operating normally today except for a lack of water. The precious liquid was being trucked into town.

KINGSTON was home for more than 200 evacuees from Chillicothe. The homeless were being cared for in private homes and at the Kingston School.

Ashville was back to normal today, as the raging Walnut Creek receded.

The 80-plus families evacuated in Pickaway County were being cared for in the homes of friends and relatives. Sheriff Charles Radcliff estimated that many more families were forced to leave their homes, but no report was made on them.

About 22 families were evacuated from the Canal Road area. Another eight families lost their homes at Dewey Park, on Route 104 at the Big Darby Creek. Seven Jackson Twp. families had to move.

In Circleville, eight families were forced from the Neuding Trailer Court on Island Road. Another eight had to leave their homes on Rosewood Ave. at Ted Lewis Park. Several other families who live along the railroad near Forest Cemetery also were evacuated.

Volunteer workers by the hundreds offered their services throughout the area. State Patrol,

Sheriff's Department, Fire and Police Departments, State Highway Department and City Service Department all worked full-time to ease the suffering.

City Water Department men did yeoman duty in attempting to keep the city supplied with water.

About 30 persons were at the Red Cross disaster center in the First Methodist Church. They were being fed and housed there. Center officials are ready for possible evacuation of persons from Chillicothe, should help be needed.

Locally, the Harden Chevrolet Co. and Ankrom Lumber Co. suffered the heaviest damage. Water closed down operation of both businesses.

IN THE COUNTY it was reported that a bridge over Darby Creek at Darbyville was seriously damaged by the flood. A covered bridge over Deer Creek at Crownover Mill Road, in Monroe Twp. was reported washed away.

It will be some time before an accurate estimate of the amount of property damage can be made. Loss of entire homes was reported in some areas.

False reports of persons in danger and other reports that persons were stranded worked hardships on rescue parties. In many cases persons refused to leave their homes in the face of the flood threat. Later some of them had to be evacuated.

Another Baby Is Kidnaped In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Police today had one clue—a woman's handwriting—in the kidnapping of an ailing, 23-day-old child from a West Side apartment Thursday. It was the city's second baby abduction this year.

A specimen of the kidnaper's handwriting was obtained in the form of a note written at the mother's request before the latter left on a wild-goose hunt for a nonexistent Bronx apartment.

In the note the woman kidnaper—said to be pregnant—wrote what she represented to be her name, address, and telephone number. Police assumed the name was fictitious after finding that the Bronx address was a fake. The phone number turned out to be an unlisted one and that of persons not possibly involved in the case, police said.

In view of reports that the kidnaper is an expectant mother, the handwritten note was to be used in a canvas of hospital records and medical offices.

Police and the FBI had teamed up in an all-night search of the area around the Manhattan apartment from where John Tavaraz disappeared with a woman his mother had met just two days ago.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Tavaraz, live with their two other children in a 1½-room apartment.

Kingston Comes To Rescue Of Beleaguered Chillicothe

The village of Kingston yesterday rallied to the aid of less fortunate fellow Ross County residents with food, shelter, bedding and clothing.

The Kingston Volunteer Fire Department was alerted at noon yesterday by the Ross County Civil Defense Department and has been on duty ever since. The Kingston school was closed due to impassable roads and many of its teachers were stranded in Chillicothe.

At approximately 10 p.m. last night, school cooks and Kingston volunteer women packed up food, bedding and necessary supplies and set up a disaster center in the Kingston School building.

Few evacuees arrived until a Chillicothe radio station broadcast the availability of the Kingston facilities. Since then more than 200 persons have arrived at the center, been fed and at least 100 taken into the homes of Kingston citizens.

THE KINGSTON FIRE Department has had men on the job since noon yesterday, including two-way radio operator, Bill Im-mell.

Volunteers have been in the Chillicothe area since late yesterday afternoon. Four men have been operating a bulldozer, while another has kept in constant contact with a U.S. Naval helicopter in the Adena area by radio from his own automobile.

Norman Godden employed his private airplane and has been conducting air survey over the beleaguered Chillicothe area since dawn.

Many male volunteers conducted and rerouted heavy traffic until 4 a.m. today. Traffic came from the Lancaster area attempting to reach points south and west.

Some were sent back to Lancaster and points east and others presently are holed up in the safest village in Ross County, Kingston, where no stream runs to endanger residents.

Most of the evacuees arrived from the Chillicothe Manor area, located west on Route 35, and from the Adena addition, north of the Scioto River, which has been hardest hit.

EVACUEES STATED that by 6 a. m. today, river water had reached the Sunberger Drive-in, approximately 1 1/2 miles north of the Scioto River.

Interviewed at the school, Kingston women stated they had been up all night and were being relieved by members of the Kingston Civic Club. One volunteer was taking names of persons and assigning them hours to return to work this afternoon.

Food and supplies from volunteers and the school cafeteria were being utilized and no one gave it a thought or cared how it would be replaced or paid for.

Nearly 40 evacuees were chatting and eating in the cafeteria at 9 a. m. today and every once in awhile, the room would still, as a Ross County radio station blared news of the area and gave out names of families saved and their whereabouts.

Above, was the school gymnasium where many teenagers and younger children were being bopped to a loud-blasting record player.

Basketball practice was scheduled for 10 a. m. and business was continuing as usual in the community. It was reported that a Kingston Church and the American Legion were being made available for the expected avalanche of evacuees later today.

AMONG THE KINGSTON families who took in unfortunate and homeless persons were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Large, Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Routt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Nye Immell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Priest and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Minor. This number only scratched the surface of the superb support and assistance afforded the homeless by the entire Kingston community.

Most evacuees were transported to Kingston by the State Highway Patrol. A school bus was outside the school awaiting emergency call for transportation purposes.

Amid exhausted evacuees sleeping on hastily constructed cots, persons eating for the first time in nearly 18 hours, radios and record players blaring away and a continual stream of new arrivals, a Kingston resident said they could handle more than 1,000 of the homeless.

Informed sources said more than 2,000 persons were already homeless in the Chillicothe area. Other organizations and groups pitching in were the Hospital Guild, teachers, wives of Volunteer Firemen and Civil Defense Workers.

Injuries Treated At Berger

Lawrence Smith, 25, 227 E. Mound St., dropped a clamp on his left foot while at work for Lincoln Molded Plastic at 7:15 a. m. yesterday. He was treated at Berger Hospital and released.

Dixie Brickley, 37, Route 3, tripped and fell at the Neuding Trailer Park yesterday, suffering abrasions and lacerations. She was treated at the hospital and released.

Guy Rush, 81, W. High St., fell down a flight of stairs at the county garage yesterday. He was admitted to the hospital for observation. His condition is listed as "fairly good."

and one third of pupils forced its closure.

Walnut Twp. was in session with several substitute teachers and a heavy absentee ratio.

Loren Straight, 712 N. Court St., Monroe principal, was stranded last night and stayed overnight in Mt. Sterling.

ALL OFFICES of the Pickaway County Courthouse shut down early yesterday afternoon and are closed today. Only the County Superintendent's office remains open with school officials working in overcoats and overshoes.

The courthouse was closed due to lack of heat. The building is heated by water pipes.

In all probability, most county and area basketball games were cancelled. Darby has reported it will attempt to play its scheduled contest with Jonathan Alder.

Kingston has cancelled its game with rugged Paint Valley scheduled on the Redskins court.

Pickaway County Weatherman, Harry A. Stivers, said he will read the river level at noon and will then attempt to walk on out Route 22 to see if a possum, isolated on a branch, was still there.

Traffic created one of the major problems for Pickaway County, Circleville and State Highway law enforcement agencies yesterday. Sight-seers unable to down their curiosity jammed streets and nearby flooded sections for a first-hand view of the raging Scioto River and flooded areas.

Traffic over Route 23 was crowded, especially over the cloverleaf, west of here, where the Scioto rose steadily to engulf Ankrom Lumber Co.

Automobiles were seen traveling Route 23 until late yesterday evening, stopped only by the flooding of road in many places. Ted Lewis Park evacuation was hampered by sight-seers blocking virtually every outlet to the Park.

Traffic at 6 p. m. last night, on N. Court St. when all incoming roads to Circleville were closed except east and one road south, was the heaviest seen since the October, 1958 Pumpkin Show.

Homes on the west side of N. Court St. came within 10 feet of having water actually at their back door. Most of the homes were not too fortunate though, receiving water in their basements, creating heating problems when furnaces were forced to be shut down.

Four draftees were forced to return here due to impassable roads after leaving for induction at Fort Hayes, Columbus.

Selective Service Headquarters, Columbus, reported that even if the men had arrived they would have been turned back due to crowded conditions at the base caused by the sheltering of evacuees.

The fifth man scheduled to report today was delinquent. City Police were dispatched for his apprehension, but he was nowhere to be found. He faces possible disciplinary action.

The draftees will report for induction upon notification of the Selective Service Headquarters.

Auxiliary Deputy Sheriff Johnny Wolford said he spotted either two dogs or foxes floating down the Scioto River on a log.

The local DuPont Co. provided motel lodging for their employees who were stranded last night.

The Pickaway County Public Library will be closed until further notice due to the lack of water. The Pickaway County Courthouse also was closed today.

Contrary to rumors, the local A & P store is not closed, according to manager R. C. Kifer. He said the store will be open until 9 p. m. tonight and from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Lewis Dean, 44, had a close brush with flood waters here yesterday when he attempted to rescue some cattle with a tractor at his farm on Route 2.

According to sheriff's deputies, a sudden rush of water caught Dean while he was in the field. They said he was forced to swim and wade through water up to his waist before rescuers reached the scene.

Dean, with his clothing partially frozen and in an exhausted condition, was rushed to Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C. H. in that all roads to Circleville were under water. He was reported in "fair" condition at noon today.

Howard Thomas, Route 2, started to take Dean to the hospital, but ran out of gas. Ray Gahn, Pickaway County Auxiliary Deputy, took the exhausted man the rest of the way.

It was reported that a covered bridge at Crownover Mill, crossing Deer creek northwest of here, was carried away yesterday. Another report noted that the Route 316 bridge over Darby Creek near Darbyville was partially washed out.

An emergency developed this morning when a woman identified as a Mrs. Johnson, Route 104 south of Route 22, fell and fractured her hip, the local sheriff's department reported. Deputies notified the Hill Funeral Home in Williamsport with directions to take the woman to Washington C. H. in that Route 22 west of here still was under water.

According to Sheriff Chasles H. Radcliff, several families in houses surrounded by water here refused to leave their homes yesterday. Sheriff Radcliff said much property could have been saved in several instances if flood stricken people had heeded early warnings to evacuate.

An unusual sight yesterday was at a small home on Route 22 just west of the city. Water completely surrounded the home, but smoke still was pouring from the chimney indicating that it was warm inside.

The sheriff's department investigated an accident on Route 104 north of Route 22 at 7:45 a. m. today when a car overturned. No injuries were reported.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff today expressed concern for evacuated people who are attempting to return to their homes. He said many of the houses have only weak wooden bridges to serve as entrances, causing hazards in that water still surrounds most of the properties.

Howard Thomas, Route 2 farmer, today said that waters which swept over his property caused the loss of about 2,000 turkeys.

An electric refrigerator was found on Route 104 near Darby Creek today. Deputies said it probably came from a cabin located along the creek.

The sheriff's department said ice now presents a major problem where water covered highways yesterday. The ice was frozen solid in some places, deputies said.

State Highway officials said probably the worst highway wash-out in this area was at Route 104 near Darby Creek. They said a huge section of the road was swept away.

The General Telephone Co. was busier today than yesterday, according to manager Harold Miller. He reported the local exchange handled 20,000 local calls between 5 p. m. yesterday and 6:30 a. m. today.

The Darbyville line from Circleville is out. About 100 customers were still without phone service at noon today.

1000 Students Flee Dormitory Blaze

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP)—Fire believed caused by defective wiring raced through the main men's dormitory at Mississippi State University early today, leaving nothing but a mass of rubble of the 78-year-old brick and wood structure.

About 1,000 students lived in the four-story building. Officials said they believed all escaped. The flames broke out about 2:45 a. m. and many of the students were still up studying for final examinations. One student suffered burns on the hands.

Malcolm Gray, supervisor of student housing, said it would cost three million dollars to replace the dormitory.

John Walters, Cleveland.

Pfc. Gary T. Balsey, 20, Salem.

Earl W. Felock, 43, of near Loveland.

The body of Diana Meek was recovered from the Great Miami River near Venice Thursday night. She drowned Wednesday night when a boat capsized near that community on the Butler-Hamilton County line.

Schweitzer and Kifer, both civil defense workers, died in an attempt to evacuate the Peterson family from their Willoughby Hills home near Cleveland. Their boat capsized in the turbulent Chagrin River. All were drowned.

Munck, an engineer, and his wife, were enroute to Toledo from Atlanta, Ga., when their automobile was swept into Darby Creek near Marysville by waters which swirled across Ohio 38. The bodies were recovered later.

The body of Walters, a truck driver, was recovered from the Ohio Canal near Valley View. Balsey was reported to be in another truck which dropped into the canal. An unidentified passenger was seen riding in the truck before the accident.

Felock's body was recovered today near a truck which plunged into 40 feet of water in the little Miami River not far from Loveland Wednesday night. It was this truck which earlier had been reported as carrying eight to 10 persons.

Pennsy Ice Gorge Nets Record Flood

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—This town of 25,000 was virtually paralyzed today by a record flood resulting from a two-mile long ice gorge in French Creek.

Fire Chief Fred Carman, directing relief efforts, said nearly 1,500 persons have been evacuated from their homes. The work is continuing.

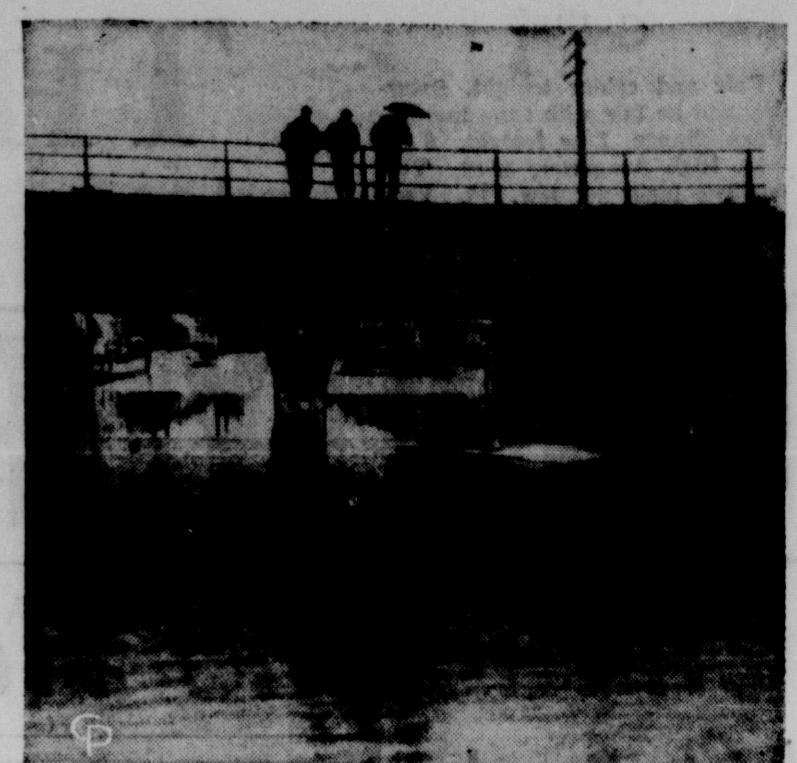

Plans were made to dynamite the ice gorge later today.

French Creek, a main tributary of the Allegheny River, stood at the 63-foot mark early today, the highest reading in history. Flood stage is 57 feet.

Ohio Legislature's Session Is Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature is in recess today and most of its members presumably have made it via highway and byway to their homes.

Many members started home Wednesday night as flood waters rose throughout the state. Others stuck around for a brief session Thursday which was uneventful and saw only eight bills introduced.

CAN'T PASS UNDER UNDERPASS — Bystanders look down at an automobile that failed to pass through flood waters at an underpass in Mansfield, O. The owner abandoned it when water flooded his engine. Heavy rains which lashed Ohio forced thousands to flee their homes and caused at least one death.

Dems Press Housing Bill

Ike's Measure Faces Committee's Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders called 14 witnesses today to counter the Eisenhower administration's appeals for enactment of its own housing program.

The witnesses included spokesmen for the National Housing Conference, the AFL-CIO, Americans for Democratic Action, American Institute of Architects, and others who have called for bigger programs than President Eisenhower has asked.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), presiding over Senate hearings on the hotly disputed program, predicted that a one-package housing bill far broader and more costly than Eisenhower wants will be passed by Congress before the end of February.

The Democrats, with commanding majorities in both Senate and House, are driving for a swift passage of a comprehensive housing program in a single bill. It would contain money and authority the President describes as urgently needed to keep some housing activities alive, plus many other items he believes should be cut or otherwise amended drastically.

Eisenhower has demanded a hold-down on federal spending to achieve a balanced budget.

Norman P. Mason, federal housing administrator, and other administration spokesmen appealed Thursday for action now on emergency needs, with less urgent matters to be considered later.

They called for quick action on a bill to provide 100 million dollars of new money for urban renewal grants, 200 million dollars for college housing loans, and an increase of 6 billion dollars in FHA mortgage insurance authority.

Huge Rocket Flames Out in Test of Cone

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—The Air Force fired another huge rocket carrying an ICBM cone of the future early today, but the powerful missile flamed out shortly after launching.

The attempt to propel the 90-foot Thor-Able rocket 4,400 miles failed when the second stage fizzled out shortly after launching.

The missile was equipped with a miniature version of the Titan Intercontinental Range Ballistic Missile guidance system to attain greater accuracy over the long range ocean flight.

The "brains" of the rocket never got a chance to do the job, however, when the second stage failed to ignite. The cause of the trouble was not known immediately.

This was the fourth attempt to shoot an advanced, highly instrumented cone close to intercontinental range and retrieve it from the ocean depths for study. None has been recovered.

The first three ventures included mouse passengers but, as far as it was known, there were no live riders this time.

Major Union Trouble Looms ON U.S. Horizon

Management, Labor Both Talking Tough As Contracts Run Out

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the darkest clouds on the horizon of a generally sunny sky today is the threat of major labor trouble. Basic industries have wage contracts now in their final months. Both management and labor are talking even tougher than usual this time.

Management says it can't go on with big pay hikes year after year.

Labor says that the business recovery and the quick snap back of corporate profits put management in an excellent position to share more of sales income with the workers.

Just the threat of major strikes can upset the economy in two ways:

1. It leads companies to over order supplies ahead of the prospective strike, running up prices and causing shortages — and then to stop ordering all together while these stocks are worked off.

2. It leads the more cautious workers to put off buying on time such big ticket items as cars and appliances. This spreads from those involved in the dispute to others who might be laid off for lack of materials in their own factories.

The nation already has been harassed by bitter labor disputes in a number of airlines. It has just escaped a strike in the refineries of a number of oil companies. Some 100,000 oilworkers are involved in labor contracts expiring in June.

Some aircraft workers will seek new contracts in May, and others in September.

Cloak, suit and skirt manufacturers have a May deadline for their negotiations with 50,000 garment makers.

But it is in June and July that the economy will face its most critical labor-management talks.

Contracts with 300,000 steel workers expire in June. And in that month and the next 62,000 nonferrous workers will be involved in negotiations.

The major meat packers and their 100,000 workers must hammer out a new contract in August.

A million railroad workers will see their present contracts expire in October.

Next Week To Bring Outstanding Programs

NEW YORK (AP)—The coming seven days can't be called the most memorable week of the season on television, but there are several programs well worth the twisting of a dial. For example:

If you enjoyed the radio programs of the late Walter Damrosch, take a look with your children at noon on Saturday at "Young People's Concert of the New York Philharmonic" with Leonard Bernstein as host and conductor over CBS.

Sunday afternoon Bernstein and the Philharmonic will be seen and heard again in their regular monthly program. The theme of the program, which made such an excellent debut last month, is the use of jazz by modern composers of serious music both in this country and abroad.

"NBC Kaleidoscope" offers a detailed report on the new possibilities in nuclear research being revealed at Brookhaven National Laboratories on Long Island. Also Sunday afternoon, on CBS "Twentieth Century" presents the second part of an excellent examination of juvenile delinquency.

"Maverick" does another twist away from its Western origins Sunday night on ABC with Richard Brinsley Sheridan's 18th century comedy, "The Rivals." Later Dan Dailey makes a rare TV appearance on "General Electric Theater" over CBS as a trumpet player in "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home."

There is another rare TV dramatic appearance Sunday night on CBS when Bette Davis stars on "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" as a middle-aged spinster whose mistaken identification of a robbery suspect sends a young man to prison for a year.

Wednesday night the "Du Pont Show of the Month" will present an adaptation of Sir James M. Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" on CBS.

Louis Is Named Bank President

H. E. Louis, New Holland, was recently re-elected president of the First National Bank of New Holland at its annual stockholders meeting.

Other officers re-named were Virgil Bryan, vice president; Robert Kirk, cashier; Mrs. George Hoti, assistant cashier, and Mrs. Gary Monteith, bookkeeper.

Directors were Harry K. Armstrong, chairman, Joseph G. Owens, Louis, Robert Kirkpatrick, Bryan and Frank Dinkler.

Grumpy Mack Sennett Looks Back Over His 74-75 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't want to talk about birthdays," Mack Sennett said grumpily.

He grudgingly said he was observing his 74th. The record books say he's 75, but there's still enough ham left in his rugged frame to fudge a year.

Even though he was passing the three-quarter century mark, he shunned celebration. He'd much rather talk about the thing he knows best, comedy.

Mack was sitting in the lobby of the Garden Court Apartments, the proud old building on Hollywood Boulevard where he has watched the filmland scene pass by for many years. He seemed a little slowed down from the kidney stone operation that kept him away from his beloved golf game for a year. But the fedora was still tilted jauntily, and the deep laugh came easily as he remembered the old days when Charlie Chaplin and W. C. Fields worked for him.

Hedy Lamarr's 5th Husband Slow Paying

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Hedy Lamarr, who is suing oilman Howard Lee for support money, said today that "he was the only man I ever really loved."

She discussed her broken marriage in a telephone interview with the Houston Chronicle from her home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Lawyers for the actress filed a $51,000 federal court suit Wednesday alleging the Houston independent oil operator is $9,000 behind in monthly payments due Miss Lamarr under a separation agreement signed last August. They were married Dec. 22, 1953.

"I loved Houston, but it was a miserable mistake," Miss Lamarr said. "I made many friends in Houston... I tried so hard but they wouldn't accept me."

She declined to elaborate.

"Howard is now three months behind in his payments and he didn't even send me a Christmas card," she said.

The actress said a recent bout with pneumonia has kept her from accepting stage and television offers.

Miss Lamarr, 44, previously was married to Fritz Mandel, Austrian musician; Gene Markey, producer; John Loder, actor, and Ted Stauffer, night club operator.

Johnson Plan On Civil Rights OK'd, Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A four-point civil rights program advanced by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) was criticized today both as too much and as too little.

But neither proponents nor opponents of civil rights legislation took strong exception to Johnson's plan.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) called it largely an imitation of measures he and other Eastern Republican senators have introduced.

He contended however, that it falls short of the GOP proposals in arming the attorney general with what he called adequate new powers to enforce civil rights.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), a veteran leader of Southern opposition to any civil rights legislation, denounced what he called "all the political maneuvering" over the controversial issue.

"I see absolutely no necessity or justification for legislation bearing the nebulous but politically attractive label of civil rights," Russell said.

Johnson, who introduced his bill Tuesday in a surprise move, had not previously included civil rights

2 Men in Toledo Cited for Murders

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Two murder indictments were returned Wednesday by the Lucas County Grand Jury.

One charged 26-year-old James Evans with first degree murder in the bludgeoning of Nettie Ballow, 72, in her home last Dec. 2.

The other charged William Redding Jr., 31, with second degree murder in the shooting of Junior S. Williams last Dec. 17 when the men got into an argument while playing pool.

Paul Chester Named PA Board Chairman

Paul Chester, Williamsport, was recently named Chairman of the Williamsport Board of Public Affairs at its reorganization meeting.

Other members of the board are John West and Rodney Betts. Charles Wallace was retained as Water superintendent, Mrs. Harold Fry as collector and Glen Whitten as meter reader.

George E. Hammon, Williamsport Council clerk, is also clerk of the Public Affairs Board.

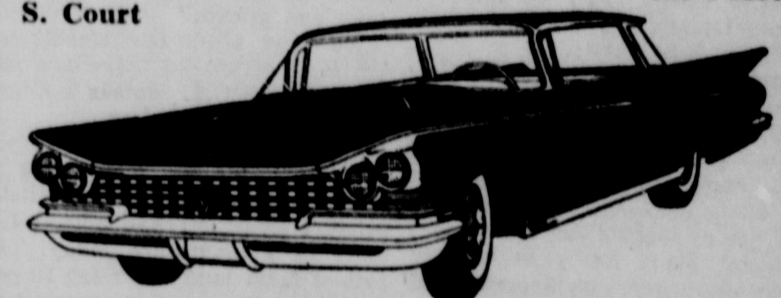

measures in his legislative program for this session of Congress. Johnson said too much civil rights legislation has been punitive. He described his measure as a modest step in a new direction.

"NBC Kaleidoscope" offers a detailed report on the new possibilities in nuclear research being revealed at Brookhaven National Laboratories on Long Island. Also Sunday afternoon, on CBS "Twentieth Century" presents the second part of an excellent examination of juvenile delinquency.

"Maverick" does another twist away from its Western origins Sunday night on ABC with Richard Brinsley Sheridan's 18th century comedy, "The Rivals." Later Dan Dailey makes a rare TV appearance on "General Electric Theater" over CBS as a trumpet player in "Bill Haley Won't You Please Come Home."

There is another rare TV dramatic appearance Sunday night on CBS when Betty Davis stars on "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" as a middle-aged spinster whose mistaken identification of a robbery suspect sends a young man to prison for a year.

Wednesday night the "Du Pont Show of the Month" will present an adaptation of Sir James M. Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" on CBS.

Louis Is Named Bank President

H. E. Louis, New Holland, was recently re-elected president of the First National Bank of New Holland at its annual stockholders meeting.

Other officers re-named were Virgil Bryan, vice president; Robert Kirk, cashier; Mrs. George Holt, assistant cashier, and Mrs. Gary Monteith, bookkeeper.

Directors were Harry K. Armstrong, chairman, Joseph G. Owens, Louis, Robert Kirkpatrick, Bryan and Frank Dinkler.

Grumpy Mack Sennett Looks Back Over His 74-75 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't want to talk about birthdays," Mack Sennett said grumpily.

He grudgingly said he was observing his 74th. The record books say he's 75, but there's still enough ham left in his ruffled frame to fudge a year.

Even though he was passing the three-quarter century mark, he shunned celebration. He'd much rather talk about the thing he knows best, comedy.

Mack was sitting in the lobby of the Garden Court Apartments, the proud old building on Hollywood Boulevard where he has watched the filmland scene pass by for many years. He seemed a little slowed down from the kidney stone operation that kept him away from his beloved golf game for a year. But the fedora was still tilted jauntily, and the deep laugh came easily as he remembered the old days when Charlie Chaplin and W. C. Fields worked for him.

"Bill Fields always had a resistance for any story idea I suggested," he recalled. "Whenever I showed him a script, he'd say, 'It's good, but you better get Harry Langdon or one of the other boys to do it.'"

"So I fixed him. The next time I had a story for him, I said, 'Bill, we got a script out of that idea you gave me when we were playing golf out at Lakeside that day.' He said, 'I don't remember it, but if you say so, I'll do it.'"

Mack, whose Keystone Cops and bathing beauties delighted a generation of movie goers, had some comments on the decline of comedy on TV.

"Their trouble is writing," he said. "If I were the sponsor of a comedy show, I would immediately double the budget for writers. I'd have two or three crews of writers working not just on next week's show, but the ones after that."

"That's what I did in the old days. I always had my crews working on two or three projects. I found the more money I put into writing a picture, the cheaper it came out. The ill-prepared films were the ones that cost a lot of money."

Hedy Lamarr's 5th Husband Slow Paying

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Hedy Lamarr, who is suing oilman Howard Lee for support money, said today that "he was the only man I ever really loved."

She discussed her broken marriage in a telephone interview with the Houston Chronicle from her home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Lawyers for the actress filed a $51,000 federal court suit Wednesday alleging the Houston independent oil operator is $9,000 behind in monthly payments due Miss Lamarr under a separation agreement signed last August. They were married Dec. 22, 1953.

"I loved Houston, but it was a miserable mistake," Miss Lamarr said. "I made many friends in Houston ... I tried so hard but they wouldn't accept me."

She declined to elaborate.

"Howard is now three months behind in his payments and he didn't even send me a Christmas card," she said.

The actress said a recent bout with pneumonia has kept her from accepting stage and television offers.

Miss Lamarr, 44, previously was married to Fritz Mandel, Austrian munitions maker; Gene Markey, producer; John Loder, actor, and Ted Stauffer, night club operator.

Johnson Plan On Civil Rights OKd, Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A four-point civil rights program advanced by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) was criticized today both as too much and as too little.

But neither proponents nor opponents of civil rights legislation took strong exception to Johnson's plan.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) called it largely an imitation of measures he and other Eastern Republican senators have introduced.

He contended however, that it falls short of the GOP proposals in arming the attorney general with what he called adequate new powers to enforce civil rights.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), a veteran leader of Southern opposition to any civil rights legislation, denounced what he called "all the political maneuvering" over the controversial issue.

"I see absolutely no necessity or justification for legislation bearing the nebulous but politically attractive label of civil rights," Russell said.

Johnson, who introduced his bill Tuesday in a surprise move, had not previously included civil rights

The other charged William Redding Jr., 31, with second degree murder in the shooting of Junior S. Williams last Dec. 17 when the men got into an argument while playing pool.

Can't Condone Cuba Killings

Disillusionment is the kindest term which can be applied to the reaction of most of the free world to the wholesale slaughter going on under the Castro regime in Cuba. The man who was supported, morally if not militarily, by many persons in all nations who believed his rebel band was the answer to Batista dictatorship, now has turned into an executioner of his own people.

The insulting remarks directed at the United States by the erstwhile revolutionist should be passed off as ill-tempered utterances of an immature mind. The continual butchering of Cuban citizens, with or without the formality of mock trials, cannot be condoned in Cuba, however, any more than the communist revenge on the freedom fighters of Hungary could be excused.

The liquidation of Batista followers in Cuba is not the result of punishment for past deeds, but a clumsy attempt to eliminate any opposition to the provisional government instituted by Fidel Castro.

Castro's insistence upon singling out the United States for insults, threats and demands lends weight to suspicions that his revolution is not as free from communist support and sympathies as he would like the world to believe. When it is remembered that Cuba is the third country in which he has led revolutionary movements (Colombia and the Dominican Republic being the other two), one cannot help but wonder if his interests do not lie more with El Fidel than with the people he has just "liberated."

Several Congressmen have suggested the United States curtail imports from Cuba as an economic retaliation if the provisional government does not soon operate in a more humane fashion. Inasmuch as the only sizable Cuban export is sugar, and the United States buys most of it, the diversion of sugar purchases to eager markets in the Philippines and southern United States would throw the Latin island into an immediate depression.

With hundreds of Cubans already executed under Castro's rule and his thirst for blood continuing, the conscience of the free world will no longer allow it to look the other way.

To Get Along, Like People

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The more you like your fellow man the easier it is for you to hold your job. The biggest single reason for dismissal in the business world is this: "He couldn't get along with other people."

If you're looking for the perfect weekend guest for your country place, don't overlook Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He tells friends that washing dishes on vacation is his idea of "sheer recreation."

Speaking of vacations, someone overheard this remark: "The major trouble with this world is that the average woman wants a little more out of life than the average man can afford."

We brag about our cleanliness, but it is estimated there are still 8 1/2 million U.S. homes without private bath or shower.

Remember when nearly every city man dreamed of retiring to the country and making an independent living off five acres? It's more of a nightmare today. The cost of farm land has risen 50 per cent since 1950—and in some areas it has tripled in the last 15 years.

While in Hollywood, says Lisa Kirk, she overheard a 10-year-old boy tell his girl friend: "I really love you. When we grow up, I want you to be my first wife!"

News note: "Women faint and cry and live longer for it." But putting up with it sure kills off us men.

No wonder a baby grows at its highest rate during the first year of life. Here's what it eats on the average: 765 cans of baby food, 337 cans of evaporated milk, 222 pounds of sugar and syrups, 30 cans of juices—plus all the crackers it doesn't throw on the floor.

Can you name the biggest college town in America? It's New York which now has 233,000 college students.

It was Edmund Burke who observed: "All that is necessary for the forces of evil to win in the world is for enough good men to do nothing."

Mikoyan's Soft Sell Didn't

By George Sokolsky

Anastas Mikoyan has come and gone and he has not conquered. Except for a few bankers and manufacturers, the country paid little heed to him because it was not pelted by the man on the street that so much hocus-pocus had to be practised to accomplish any good.

A man who has a straightforward proposition to make comes forth with it in a straightforward manner. Mikoyan played tricks in order to soften up the American people for his reception. We do not need softening up. We need and want the truth.

It is difficult to estimate what the effect of this visit will have on war and peace relations between the United States and Soviet Russia. In the United States, Mikoyan's visit back-fired because it was over-staged. Even when the Queen of the United Kingdom was here, no such fuss was made, and Mikoyan is only Number 2 or 3 in the Soviet hierarchy.

In New York, people were actually kept from their homes, while Mikoyan moved from place to place. The fear was that he might be assassinated, but if he came as a tourist, why the heavy police escort. This city and Washington are full of tourists who go from place to place without a mob of police.

For the first time, citizens learned that the State Department has a police (security) force of its own. This is not desirable. We are being over-policed and the citizen, who foots the bills, is required to make way for any kind of alien the State Department chooses to guard. Mikoyan himself complained over the air that he was being too well guarded.

A citizen has the right to the use of the streets and when steps are taken to close streets, either by barricades or by blinding search-lights in order to prevent an unpopular alien from being assassinated, the protection can reach a point of absurdity.

Mikoyan, although he sounded glib, did not answer questions honestly or adequately. He fenced and side-stepped. Whoever handled him, whoever prepared him for this trip, was not a competent public relations man, because a first-rate P.R. would have told him that rather than to appear foxy, it is better not to answer at all.

American do not go for wise-cracks unless done by a professional like Bob Hope or Jack Benny. A wise-crack must be timed carefully. Our politicians have learned the peril of it and only Franklin D. Roosevelt used it to full advantage, he being gifted in voice and manner for it.

Mikoyan's wise-cracks often sounded like overt criticism of the country whose guest he was supposed to be and sometimes even like a veiled threat. The fact is that many who attended dinners or luncheons in his honor have been apologizing for it, indicating either that they went to see but were unconvinced by him, or that they wanted to ask questions, the better to inform him. It is a pity that Sen. Hubert Humphrey got so mixed up in this thing; it has ruined his chances for 1960.

The poorest showing that Mikoyan made anywhere was on "Meet the Press" where he was given an intellectual work-out and ducked and dodged until he came up with this formula for solving the world's problems:

1. The United States and her allies to get out of West Berlin;
2. The United States to get out

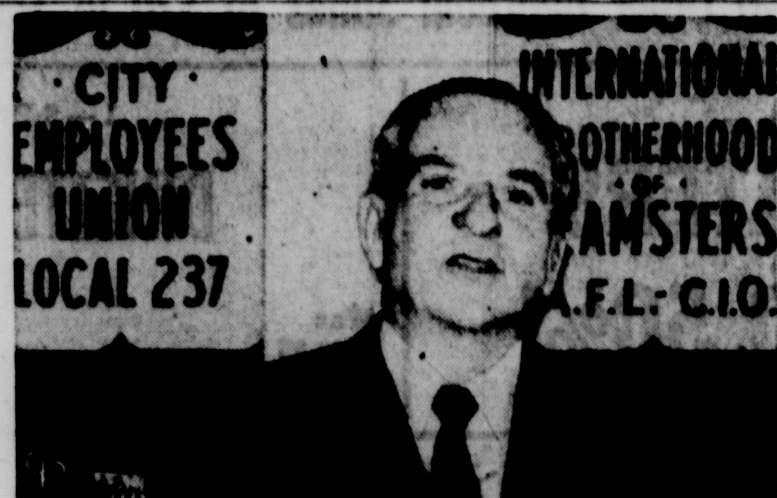

of Formosa and move to the Philippines;

3. East Berlin not to be united with West Berlin because East Berlin is the capital of East Germany.

In a word, it is all take and no give. Except for a few empty compliments which added nothing to reality, Mikoyan, on this hour-long program, gave not an inch but expected the United States to give a mile.

The impudence of the man is astonishing, for while he asks that we be friends with Soviet Russia, he is not prepared to offer a realistic proposal for settling a single outstanding question. It is apparent that he took the same attitude in his talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Eisenhower.

What Mikoyan hoped to accomplish by his visit, must remain a guess. Despite the vast preparations by amateur diplomats, he did not succeed in convincing our people that we must give way to Soviet policy.

IT WON'T BE A STRIKE—First step in the Teamsters Union plans to organize police forces in 15 American cities will be a New York drive involving picketing of headquarters, precinct stations and supply depots. Henry Feinstein (above), Teamster representative in New York, tells newsmen, however, that the picketing, set to start Jan. 12, is not a strike move and that no attempt will be made to interfere with police supplies. "... don't believe policemen should strike."

Hair Problems Can Be Solved

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

While too little hair is a major problem for many men, superfluous hair is just as big a problem for countless women.

Fortunately for the women, it is much easier to get rid of excess hair on the face, body or limbs than it is to grow new hair on a bald head.

There are various methods of getting rid of superfluous hair, but the only permanent way is through electrolysis. Since some excessive hair growth may be linked to a medical disorder, I suggest that you see your family physician or dermatologist before consulting an electrologist.

Besides, asking your doctor to suggest a good electrologist is a much more scientific way of getting one than by simply leafing through the telephone book.

In electrolysis, a small electric needle is inserted into the hair follicles right down to the hair root. Then a very, very small quantity of electricity is discharged. This destroys the hair root forever. It is then a simple procedure to remove the hair with a tweezers or by some other process.

Generally, either one of two methods of electrolysis is employed. You might ask your doctor which one he thinks is best for you. Expense may enter into it, too.

The older method is called the multiple needle procedure and employs several needles at the same time, possibly as many as ten.

Although a newer method uses only one needle at a time, it is faster—and more expensive.

This newer technique, called the high frequency method, uses an extremely thin platinum needle only 3/16 of an inch in length.

Now, when and where should electrolysis be used?

Well, that, of course, is pretty much up to the individual. Electrolysis is both time-consuming and expensive.

For this reason, many doctors hesitate to recommend it except for removal of superfluous hair on the face. As for arms and legs, it is up to you to judge whether the cost and effort make electrolysis worthwhile.

2 Big Banks Talk Merger

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and seventh largest banks in the nation are exploring the possibility of a merger.

They are the Manufacturers Trust Co., fourth with assets of $3,654,000,000 as of last Dec. 31, and the Bankers Trust Co., seventh with assets of $3,128,000,000.

If the banks unite, their combined assets still would not match the First National City Bank of New York, the nation's third largest bank with assets of $7,260,000,000.

The largest is the Bank of America in San Francisco and the second largest is the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—That hardy little congressional band called liberals tried to throw their weight around, found out in a hurry they were underweight, and got smacked down four times in a row.

Yet the liberals' failures can't be dismissed as something absolute. They didn't lose entirely. They are an active and vocal force, even if very often they miss achieving their goals. They make their presence felt and have an influence on events.

But those post-November election predictions, when Democrats swamped Republicans, didn't come off. Then it was thought new blood and more liberal men would be a big pain to the conservative leaders of Congress.

These were the four liberal bumps on the head:

No. 1, first target for the bloc of Democrats and Republicans bearing the liberal label was the Senate rule which made it almost impossible to break a filibuster—the talkfest Southern Democrats traditionally relied on to stop a civil rights bill.

Under this rule debate couldn't be stopped unless a constitutional two thirds of the Senate — 66 of the 98 members — voted to do it. With Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) leading the charge, the liberals set out to change this rule.

Douglas proposed that a simple majority of the Senate — 50 of the 98 members — be enough to stop a filibuster. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, called Douglas' hand.

He let the Douglas proposal come to a vote — at a time when there was no filibuster to overcome — and the result was a staggering 67-28 against letting a majority of the Senate stop a filibuster.

Yet in the end the rule was changed just a little. Under Johnson's guidance the Senate changed the rule to require hereafter a simple two thirds of those present at voting time.

No. 2. A group of Senate Republican liberals tried to get one of themselves chosen leader of Senate Republicans. They wanted to keep a conservative like Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from getting the job.

No. 3. Once again the liberal Senate Republicans made a try. This was to keep the highly conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona from being chosen chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

Again they lost. A majority picked Goldwater who frankly says he is so conservative that "I'm even a stronger conservative than people think I am."

No. 4. On the House side a batch of liberal Democrats and Republicans made noises about something they wanted. They wanted changes made in or about the House Rules Committee whose Democratic and Republican membership is highly conservative.

This is one of the most powerful committees in Congress and can pretty well prevent legislation from coming out for a full House vote when the members don't like it.

But this minor liberal revolt was squelched under the persuasion of Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House and boss of the Democrats. He reportedly assured the liberals, however, that he'd personally see to it that no worthwhile legislation gets buried in the Rules Committee.

Goldwater Gets Nod for GOP Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators accepted Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) as their 1959-60 campaign chairman Wednesday after opposition from self-styled liberals among them had wilted. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the group had given unanimous ratification to his appointment of Goldwater to head the campaign committee.

Saltonstall also named these other members:

Sens. Alexander Wiley (Wis); Homer E. Capehart (Ind); Frank Carlson (Kan); Wallace F. Bennett (Utah); Prescott Bush (Conn); J. Glenn Beall (Md); and Norris Cotton (N.H.).

Mikoyan himself complained over the air that he was being too well guarded.

A citizen has the right to the use of the streets and when steps are taken to close streets, either by barricades or by blinding search-lights in order to prevent an unpopular alien from being assassinated, the protection can reach a point of absurdity.

Mikoyan, although he sounded glib, did not answer questions honestly or adequately. He fenced and side-stepped. Whoever handled him, whoever prepared him for this trip, was not a competent public relations man, because a first-rate P.R. would have told him that rather than to appear foxy, it is better not to answer at all.

Americans do not go for wise-cracks unless done by a professional like Bob Hope or Jack Benny. A wise-crack must be timed carefully. Our politicians have learned the peril of it and only Franklin D. Roosevelt used it to full advantage, he being gifted in voice and manner for it.

Mikoyan's wise-cracks often sounded like overt criticism of the country whose guest he was supposed to be and sometimes even like a veiled threat. The fact is that many who attended dinners or luncheons in his honor have been apologizing for it, indicating either that they went to see but were unconvinced by him, or that they wanted to ask questions, the better to inform him. It is a pity that Sen. Hubert Humphrey got so mixed up in this thing; it has ruined his chances for 1960.

The poorest showing that Mikoyan made anywhere was on "Meet the Press" where he was given an intellectual work-out and ducked and dodged until he came up with this formula for solving the world's problems:

1. The United States and her allies to get out of West Berlin;
2. The United States to get out

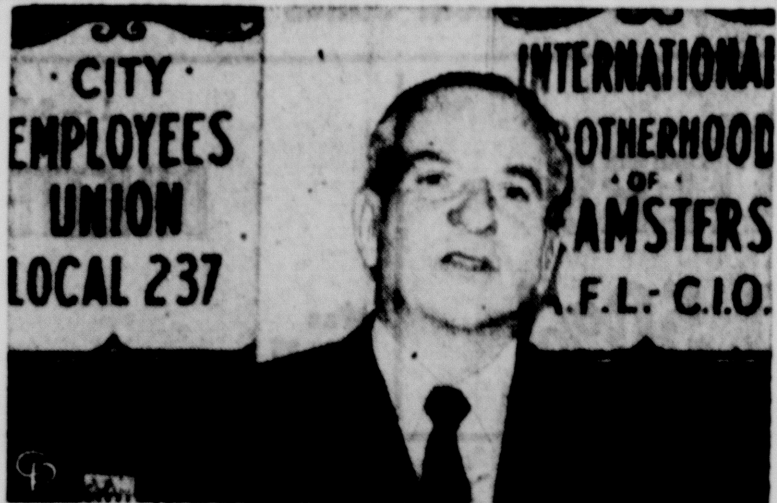

of Formosa and move to the Philippines;

3. East Berlin not to be united with West Berlin because East Berlin is the capital of East Germany.

In a word, it is all take and no give. Except for a few empty compliments which added nothing to reality, Mikoyan, on this hour-long program, gave not an inch but expected the United States to give a mile.

The impudence of the man is astonishing, for while he asks that we be friends with Soviet Russia, he is not prepared to offer a realistic proposal for settling a single outstanding question. It is apparent that he took the same attitude in his talks with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Eisenhower.

What Mikoyan hoped to accomplish by his visit, must remain a guess. Despite the vast preparations by amateur diplomats, he did not succeed in convincing our people that we must give way to Soviet policy.

IT WON'T BE A STRIKE—First step in the Teamsters Union plans to organize police forces in 15 American cities will be a New York drive involving picketing of headquarters, precinct stations and supply depots. Henry Feinstein (above), Teamster representative in New York, tells newsmen, however, that the picketing, set to start Jan. 12, is not a strike move and that no attempt will be made to interfere with police supplies—"... don't believe policemen should strike."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—That hardy little congressional band called liberals tried to throw their weight around, found out in a hurry they were underweight, and got smacked down four times in a row.

Yet the liberals' failures can't be dismissed as something absolute. They didn't lose entirely. They are an active and vocal force, even if very often they miss achieving their goals. They make their presence felt and have an influence on events.

But those post-November election predictions, when Democrats swamped Republicans, didn't come off. Then it was thought new blood and more liberal men would be a big pain to the conservative leaders of Congress.

These were the four liberal bumps on the head:

No. 1, first target for the bloc of Democrats and Republicans bearing the liberal label was the Senate rule which made it almost impossible to break a filibuster—the talkfest Southern Democrats traditionally relied on to stop a civil rights bill.

Under this rule debate couldn't be stopped unless a constitutional two thirds of the Senate — 66 of the 98 members — voted to do it. With Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) leading the charge, the liberals set out to change this rule.

Douglas proposed that a simple majority of the Senate — 50 of the 98 members — be enough to stop a filibuster. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, called Douglas' hand.

He let the Douglas proposal come to a vote — at a time when there was no filibuster to overcome — and the result was a staggering 67-28 against letting a majority of the Senate stop a filibuster.

Yet in the end the rule was changed just a little. Under Johnson's guidance the Senate changed the rule to require hereafter a simple two thirds of those present at voting time.

No. 2, a group of Senate Republican liberals tried to get one of themselves chosen leader of Senate Republicans. They wanted to keep a conservative like Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from getting the job.

No. 3, once again the liberal Senate Republicans made a try. This was to keep the highly conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona from being chosen chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

Again they lost. A majority picked Goldwater who frankly says he is so conservative that "I'm even a stronger conservative than people think I am."

No. 4, on the House side a batch of liberal Democrats and Republicans made noises about something they wanted. They wanted changes made in or about the House Rules Committee whose Democratic and Republican membership is highly conservative.

This is one of the most powerful committees in Congress and can pretty well prevent legislation from coming out for a full House vote when the members don't like it.

But this minor liberal revolt was squelched under the persuasion of Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House and boss of the Democrats. He reportedly assured the liberals, however, that he'd personally see to it that no worthwhile legislation gets buried in the Rules Committee.

Goldwater Gets Nod for GOP Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators accepted Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) as their 1959-60 campaign chairman Wednesday after opposition from self-styled liberals among them had wilted. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the group had given unanimous ratification to his appointment of Goldwater to head the campaign committee.

Saltonstall also named these other members:

Sens. Alexander Wiley (Wis.); Homer E. Capehart (Ind.); Frank Carlson (Kan.); Wallace F. Bennett (Utah); Prescott Bush (Conn.); J. Glenn Beall (Md.); and Norris Cotton (N.H.).

A cloudburst or gully-buster is the description given to torrential rain best known as a lash load. The Weather Bureau's official definition of a lash load is "a local flood which rises and subsides rapidly."

2 Big Banks Talk Merger

NEW YORK (AP)—The fourth and seventh largest banks in the nation are exploring the possibility of a merger.

They are the Manufacturers Trust Co., fourth with assets of $3,654,000,000 as of last Dec. 31, and the Bankers Trust Co., seventh with assets of $3,128,000,000.

If the banks unite, their combined assets still would not match the First National City Bank of New York, the nation's third largest bank with assets of $7,226,000,000.

The largest is the Bank of America in San Francisco and the second largest is the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

U.S. Snagged In Talks with Iran, Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has run into difficulties with Pakistan and Iran in negotiating special defense agreements aimed at bolstering them against outside attack.

Both Iran and Pakistan are reported insisting on stronger defense assurances than the United States is ready to extend at this time.

A third country, Turkey, is understood to be satisfied, however, with the draft of an agreement proposed in talks in Ankara.

Diplomatic authorities who disclosed the backstage argument Friday said there seems little chance the agreements will be signed, as had been hoped, at a Baghdad Pact meeting beginning Monday in Karachi, Pakistan.

The United States is negotiating the agreements within the Baghdad Pact framework in keeping with a pledge Secretary of State Dulles made in London July 28. That followed the internal revolt in Iraq, one of the original members of the pact.

Dulles said then that the United States would "promptly enter into agreements with nations in the alliance to give them added security in defense guarantees." He proposed doing this under authority already granted by Congress without the need for formal treaties. Such a course would avoid possibly dangerous delays while the U.S. Senate considered and approved new treaties.

In the negotiations, however, Iranian and Pakistani government leaders have criticized the proposed wording of the agreements as far too weak.

Both have requested unequivocal American commitments to come to their aid in the event of attack from any quarter, Communist or non-Communist.

Long-Life Radio Tube Developed

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—The Army says it has developed a tube that may last longer than any radio or TV sets the tube serves.

The tube was fashioned jointly by the Signal Research and Development Laboratory here and Tung-Sol Electric Inc., Bloomfield, N.J.

The Army said in an official statement Wednesday that the development is the first major breakthrough in basic tube design in more than 30 years.

The new tube is cold, the Army said, in contrast with the hot cathode tube. It consists of a tiny nickel cylinder coated with dried milk of magnesia and glows blue instead of red. It uses less than a tenth the power of a standard hot tube.

Lawyer for 60 Years Dies in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Albert Mendelson, 82, who was admitted to the Ohio Bar 60 years ago and who served in the Ohio Senate in 1909-11, died Thursday in Mount Sinai Hospital. He was a founder of the Western Reserve Republican Club, a former state commander of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and long active in the Jewish community centers.

GOP Leaders Show Hunger For More U.S. Patronage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Patronage-hungry Republicans had a pledge from GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn today that party officials will have a hand in filling 100,000 census taker jobs.

With the Republican National Committee indicating approval of an ambitious program to sell its candidates to the voters in 1960, Alcorn moved to chink up some of the cracks in party harmony.

John B. Martin Jr., Michigan national committeeman, brought the patronage matter out into the open with the observation that he had been informed the Commerce Department will hire 100,000 persons in its 1960 census operation.

Martin said he wants to be sure deserving Republicans share liberally in this windfall, which he said would provide employment for several months at pay ranging up to $400 a month.

Alcorn replied that this matter "is well in hand." He said he had conferred with Secretary of Commerce Strauss and other high administration officials and had been assured that the patronage is going to be available through local Republican channels.

Alcorn lacked any immediate solution, however, of an issue raised by Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, Ohio committeewoman. She contended that Republicans in Congress had not been consulted in advance about the long-range program the chairman laid before the National Committee Thursday.

Alcorn replied sharply that he had drawn up the program at the President's request. He said he had submitted it to Eisenhower as a confidential memo and had not cleared it with anyone.

The fact that he and other GOP leaders in Congress had not been asked for their views before Alcorn laid down his program to the national committee was said to have contributed to the critical blast fired at President Eisenhower Thursday by Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.).

Simpson, head of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, won vigorous applause when he proposed that Eisenhower devote to the party some of the "unremitting effort" toward year-around campaigning the President called for from Republican workers.

Federal Court Hassle Cools During Recess

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Federal Building, which rocked for four days this week from the reverberations of a grand jury probe into the affairs of labor unions, returns to normal today.

The jury is in recess until Feb. 2.

A hearing on petitions attacking subpoenas served on prospective witnesses has been continued to that date.

Max H. Goldschein, attorney in the Department of Justice's Criminal Division, has been summoned to a Washington conference by Malcolm Anderson, deputy attorney general. Goldschein said he does not know what is to be discussed.

The hearing on subpoenas opened Thursday before Federal Judge James C. Connell. None of the 15 witnesses whose subpoenas are being attacked can be called until their petitions are dealt with.

Attorney William J. Corrigan indicated that his attack on subpoenas issued his clients will be based on a claim of harassment.

William Presser, head of the Ohio Teamsters Council, and Louis (Abe) Triscaro, head of Truck Drivers Local 436, were among the union officers testifying before Judge Connell.

Pyle Quits Post As Aide to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Howard Pyle as a White House aide.

Pyle, former Republican governor of Arizona, is leaving to become head of the National Safety Council. He has served the last four years as deputy assistant to the President in charge of inter-governmental relations.

In his letter of resignation, Pyle said he is reluctant to leave but that "there is a challenging new opportunity for service open to me" with the Safety Council which has headquarters in Chicago.

Pyle's salary as a presidential aide has been $20,000 a year. There was no word on how much he will receive as head of the Safety Council.

Maumee Conservancy Chiefs Eye Drainage

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Directors of the 15-county Maumee Watershed Conservancy District are studying plans to improve the Tiffin and Little Auglaize rivers as drainage outlets.

The Tiffin River project involves about 25 miles of channel improvement in Fulton and Williams Counties. Its cost is estimated at $1,246,000.

The Little Auglaize River plan affects areas in Mercer, Van Wert, Putnam and Paulding Counties. The proposed 22 miles of main channel enlargement is estimated to cost $810,000.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Compliments Are In Order

DEAR ABBY: An acquaintance of mine recently had a nose job and I am wondering if it would be proper for me to say anything about the operation or should I let it go unnoticed?

LINDA

DEAR LINDA: People resort to plastic surgery because they hope it will make a noticeable improvement in their appearance. Avoid using expressions such as "nose job" or "bob job"—but do comment on how "lovely" she (or he) looks.

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in High School and I am not bragging when I say I have a very good reputation. I date on Friday and Saturday nights and have to be in 12:30 sharp, and I always am. Last Friday I had a date with a boy who carried a pint of whiskey in his glove compartment. He started drinking and driving recklessly so I got out of the car and walked home. I had to walk four miles and didn't get home until 3:00 a. m. My parents were furious and took away my dating privileges for three months. I think I used good judgment and shouldn't have been punished for it. What is your opinion?

PUNISHED UNJUSTLY
DEAR PUNISHED: Your decision to refuse to ride with a drunk driver was excellent, but no girl should walk four miles alone at three a. m. You'd have been wiser to have called your father, a taxi, or even the Police Department for a ride home.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are trying hard to save their marriage. They went to our minister and he sent them to a Marriage Counselor. The Marriage Counselor said they both needed a psychiatrist. They both couldn't afford to go to a psychiatrist, so my mother is going. The trouble is, I am sure the wrong one is going. My father needs it much worse than my mother. What can be done about this problem?

THEIR SON
DEAR SON: The psychiatrist will not waste his time or your mother's money. If she doesn't need treatment, he'll discharge her. In the meantime he'll give her some helpful advice on how to live with your father.

DEAR ABBY: My wife died four years ago and none of my four children offered me a home with them. I own a nicely-turned house but it was lonesome coming home to an empty house every night and eating in restaurants. A respectable widow lady who cleans my house and does my laundry agreed to move into an upstairs bedroom (mine is downstairs) and I was glad to have her. I am 64 and she is 62. My children raised such a fuss you'd think we were doing something immoral (which I give you my word we are not.) Should I ask this lady to move out or should I tell my children to leave me alone?

PAPPA
DEAR PAPPA: There is nothing wrong with having a housekeeper live in your home. Tell your children to mind their morals and you'll mind yours.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CHAIRMAN OF THE BORED": How about offering your services to a Volunteer Organization? If you aren't giving, you aren't living.

U.S. Snagged In Talks with Iran, Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has run into difficulties with Pakistan and Iran in negotiating special defense agreements aimed at bolstering them against outside attack.

Both Iran and Pakistan are reported insisting on stronger defense assurances than the United States is ready to extend at this time.

A third country, Turkey, is understood to be satisfied, however, with the draft of an agreement proposed in talks in Ankara.

Diplomatic authorities who disclosed the backstage argument Friday said there seems little chance the agreements will be signed, as had been hoped, at a Baghdad Pact meeting beginning Monday in Karachi, Pakistan.

The United States is negotiating the agreements within the Baghdad Pact framework in keeping with a pledge Secretary of State Dulles made in London July 28. That followed the internal revolt in Iraq, one of the original members of the pact.

Dulles said then that the United States would "promptly enter into agreements with nations in the alliance to give them added security in defense guarantees." He proposed doing this under authority already granted by Congress without the need for formal treaties. Such a course would avoid possibly dangerous delays while the U.S. Senate considered and approved new treaties.

In the negotiations, however, Iranian and Pakistani government leaders have criticized the proposed wording of the agreements as far too weak.

Both have requested unequivocal American commitments to come to their aid in the event of attack from any quarter, Communist or non-Communist.

Long-Life Radio Tube Developed

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—The Army says it has developed a tube that may last longer than any radio or TV sets the tube serves.

The tube was fashioned jointly by the Signal Research and Development Laboratory here and Tung-Sol Electric Inc., Bloomfield, N.J.

The Army said in an official statement Wednesday that the development is the first major break through in basic tube design in more than 30 years.

The new tube is cold, the Army said, in contrast with the hot cathode tube. It consists of a tiny nickel cylinder coated with dried milk of magnesia and glows blue instead of red. It uses less than a tenth the power of a standard hot tube.

Lawyer for 60 Years Dies in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Albert Mendelson, 82, who was admitted to the Ohio Bar 60 years ago and who served in the Ohio Senate in 1909-11, died Thursday in Mount Sinai Hospital. He was a founder of the Western Reserve Republican Club, a former state commander of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and long active in the Jewish community centers organization.

A poem "Be the Best Wherever You Are" was recited by Miss Vause. "My Christmas Prayer" was given by Nancy Fausnaugh and a coronet solo "Jolly Saint Nicholas" was played by Sue Heron.

A song, "Sunshine Man" was sung by the Grange. Mrs. Laura Berger read several poems entitled "A'fear'd of a Gal" and in

GOP Leaders Show Hunger For More U.S. Patronage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Patronage-hungry Republicans had a pledge from GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn today that party officials will have a hand in filling 100,000 census taker jobs.

With the Republican National Committee indicating approval of an ambitious program to sell its candidates to the voters in 1960, Alcorn moved to chink up some of the cracks in party harmony.

John B. Martin Jr., Michigan national committeeman, brought the patronage matter out into the open with the observation that he had been informed the Commerce Department will hire 100,000 persons in its 1960 census operation.

Martin said he wants to be sure deserving Republicans share liberally in this windfall, which he said would provide employment for several months at pay ranging up to $400 a month.

Alcorn replied that this matter "is well in hand." He said he had conferred with Secretary of Commerce Strauss and other high administration officials and had been assured that the patronage is going to be available through local Republican channels.

Alcorn lacked any immediate solution, however, of an issue raised by Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, Ohio committeewoman. She contended that Republicans in Congress had not been consulted in advance about the long-range program the chairman laid before the National Committee Thursday.

Alcorn replied sharply that he had drawn up the program at the President's request. He said he had submitted it to Eisenhower as a confidential memo and had not cleared it with anyone.

The fact that he and other GOP leaders in Congress had not been asked for their views before Alcorn laid down his program to the national committee was said to have contributed to the critical blast fired at President Eisenhower Thursday by Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.).

Few Freshmen Due In Frisco Camp

NEW YORK (AP) — The accent won't be on rookies in the San Francisco Giants training camp this year. There will be only a handful present.

The reason is obvious. Practically all the good ones were brought up last year. And what a collection. Orlando Cepeda, who walked off with rookie of the year honors; Willie Kirkland, Bob Schmidt, Leon Wagner, Felipe Alou and Andre Rodgers.

All signs point to still another outstanding prospect this season. He is Willie McCovey, a tall, wiry first baseman who is said to be a better hitter than all of last year's rookies with the possible exception of Cepeda.

Willie is the boy the Giants have been waiting to spring on the unsuspecting baseball public for several years. A two-year stay in the service interrupted their plans.

Last year, playing triple A ball for the first time, McCovey rapped Pacific Coast League pitching to the tune of 319. His extra base output included 37 doubles, 10 triples and 14 home runs. In addition, he drove in 89 runs. He is said to be exceedingly fast for a big man and can handle that glove.

Only three new pitchers will be in camp. They are right-handers Dom Zanni and Frank Funk and left-hander John Fitzgerald.

Funk is given the best chance to win a place on the staff, most likely as a relief specialist. He won 17 and lost seven at Corpus Christi but it was his workhorse tendencies that impressed the Giants brass. He appeared in 48 games, pitched 149 innings and posted a 2.60 earned run average. Zanni was 14-11 at Phoenix.

Marshall Renfro, an outfielder; Ben Valenzuela and Jose Pagan, infielders; and catchers Roger MacCardell and Al Steigltz, complete the freshman squad.

Next: Baltimore Orioles.

No Sunday Indian Game Due on TV

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time in three years, no Sunday home games of the Cleveland Indians will be televised from Municipal Stadium this coming baseball season.

In the last three years, the first games of Sunday double headers here were televised—a practice on which the Tribe's General Manager Frank Lane, who took over last season, frowns. He thinks it hurts the game.

The coverage plans disclosed Thursday night provide for telecasting about the same number of games as last year, 56 in all. These will include all Saturday games—home and away—along with Sunday games on the road and a selection of night games out of town.

Swede Slated For Talks on Title Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was due here from Sweden Friday to wrap up negotiations for a title fight with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

The handsome, undefeated European titleholder was confident on two counts—he will get the contract and then the crown in the June fight.

"I'm sure I will win otherwise I would never sign my name on the paper," he said. "If you don't believe in yourself, you cannot be a boxer."

He commented on boarding a U.S.-bound plane at Goteborg.

Tennis Grand Prix Planned by Kramer

LONDON (AP) — Jack Kramer, professional tennis promoter, today announced plans for a European grand prix aiming at giving his tennis circus a competitive spirit.

The professionals will collect points for each success in an 80-day tour. Then the five top players will compete in a separate tournament to decide money placings. The prize money will run to at least $56,000. The competition will start in Germany July 10 and move to Britain, France, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Turkey, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

SPORTS BRIEFS

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Red Auerbach will not know until game-time tonight whether ace playmaker Bob Cousy will be able to play in the National Basketball Assn.'s ninth annual All Star game.

Elmer Michigan State or Minnesota will take sole possession of the Big Ten basketball lead in tomorrow's light schedule of games. Each is 3-1 in the race, sharing first place with Illinois and Michigan.

Springs—despite some puzzling statements by Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

It was learned from a good source that the fight is all set. This was disclosed after D'Amato had said he still was negotiating with other contenders. Apparently the supercautious manager was concerned that Johansson's demands would be more than he would want to meet.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Long-hitting Paul Harney and Jim Ferree, a pair of former college golf stars, led the way into the second round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Tournament today.

Harney, 29, who on occasion can outdrive the prodigious George Bayer, and Ferree, 27, who once won the intercollegiate driving title while attending the University of North Carolina, went into the second 18 holes tied at 66, five strokes under par.

The setting is the exclusive Thunderbird Country Club with par 36-35-71 for its 6,800 yards.

Of the 41 invited professionals competing, 28 shot the first round under par.

McDougald Prefers Trade To Pay Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gil McDougald says he would rather be traded away from the New York Yankees than take a pay cut.

"If I accept a cut," the infielder said, "I admit a weakness, and I have to think I don't have any or I'll give the game up."

McDougald said the Yankees' first contract offer for 1959 called for a cut of more than $4,000 from the reported $30,000 he received last season.

Rookie Prospects for '59

Few Freshmen Due In Frisco Camp

NEW YORK (AP) — The accent won't be on rookies in the San Francisco Giants training camp this year. There will be only a handful present.

The reason is obvious. Practically all the good ones were brought up last year. And what a collection. Orlando Cepeda, who walked off with rookie of the year honors; Willie Kirkland, Bob Schmidt, Leon Wagner, Felipe Alou and Andre Rodgers.

All signs point to still another outstanding prospect this season. He is Willie McCovey, a tall, wiry first baseman who is said to be a better hitter than all of last year's rookies with the possible exception of Cepeda.

Willie is the boy the Giants have been waiting to spring on the unsuspecting baseball public for several years. A two-year stay in the service interrupted their plans.

Last year, playing triple A ball for the first time, McCovey rapped Pacific Coast League pitching to the tune of .319. His extra base output included 37 doubles, 10 triples and 14 home runs. In addition, he drove in 89 runs. He is said to be exceedingly fast for a big man and can handle that glove.

Only three new pitchers will be in camp. They are right-handers Dom Zanni and Frank Funk and left-hander John Fitzgerald.

Funk is given the best chance to win a place on the staff, most likely as a relief specialist. He won 17 and lost seven at Corpus Christi but it was his workhorse tendencies that impressed the Giant brass. He appeared in 48 games, pitched 149 innings and posted a 2.60 earned run average. Zanni was 14-11 at Phoenix.

Marshall Renfro, an outfielder; Ben Valenzuela and Jose Pagan, infielders; and catcher Roger MacCardell and Al Stegitz, complete the freshman squad.

Next: Baltimore Orioles.

No Sunday Indian Game Due on TV

CLEVELAND (AP) — For the first time in three years, no Sunday home games of the Cleveland Indians will be televised from Municipal Stadium this coming baseball season.

In the last three years, the first games of Sunday double headers here were televised—a practice on which the Tribe's General Manager Frank Lane, who took over last season, frowns. He thinks it hurts the gate.

The coverage plans disclosed Thursday night provide for telecasting about the same number of games as last year, 56 in all. These will include all Saturday games—home and away—along with Sunday games on the road and a selection of night games out of town.

Swede Slated For Talks on Title Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was due here from Sweden Friday to wrap up negotiations for a title fight with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

The hands of some, undefeated European titleholder was confident on two counts—he will get the contract and then the crown in the June fight.

"I'm sure I will win otherwise I would never sign my name on the paper," he said. "If you don't believe in yourself, you cannot be a boxer."

He commented on boarding a U.S.-bound plane at Gate B.

Tennis Grand Prix Planned by Kramer

LONDON (AP) — Jack Kramer, professional tennis promoter, today announced plans for a European grand prix aiming at giving his tennis circus a competitive spirit.

The professionals will collect points for each success in an 80-day tour. Then the five top players will compete in a separate tournament to decide money placings. The prize money will run to at least $56,000. The competition will start in Germany July 10 and move to Britain, France, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Turkey, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

4 Colleges Play Despite Floods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Flood-weary Ohioans may ooze water with every step but where there is a dry basketball court the college game show goes on.

Thursday night, four games were played in Ohio and another involving an Ohio school—Bluffton—was just across the Ohio River at Huntington, W. Va.

In the only conference game, Wittenberg remained atop the Ohio Conference, posting its seventh straight victory in a 75-56 sweep of Muskingum at New Concord. Terry Deems topped the Tiger scoring with 33 points. Wittenberg has lost only one game in 10 starts. In other games, the Huntington Foresters nipped Bluffton 77-76, Wilmington edged Central State 70-68, Rio Grande swamped Kentucky Christian 85-51 and Bliss inched by the Ohio State Jayvees 78-77.

Promoter Bill Rosenzohn shared Johansson's optimism that the fight will be made — for New York, Los Angeles, or Colorado Springs—despite some puzzling statements by Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

It was learned from a good source that the fight is all set. This was disclosed after D'Amato had said he still was negotiating with other contenders.

Apparently the supercautious manager was concerned that Johansson's demands would be more than he would want to meet.

Harney, Ferree Pace Thunderbird

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Long-hitting Paul Harney and Jim Ferree, a pair of former college golf stars, led the way into the second round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Tournament today.

Harney, 29, who on occasion can outdrive the prodigious George Bayer, and Ferree, 27, who once won the intercollegiate driving title while attending the University of North Carolina, went into the second 18 holes tied at 66, five strokes under par.

The setting is the exclusive Thunderbird Country Club with 36-35-71 for its 6,800 yards. Of the 41 invited professionals competing, 28 shot the first round under par.

SPORTS BRIEFS

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Red Auerbach will not know until game-time tonight whether ace playmaker Bob Cousy will be able to play in the National Basketball Assn.'s ninth annual All Star game.

Either Michigan State or Minnesota will take sole possession of the Big Ten basketball lead in tomorrow's light schedule of games. Each is 3-1 in the race, sharing first place with Illinois and Michigan.

Flood Waters Continue To Move South

There were other tragedies too. Like the 50-year-old invalid in Columbus, Mrs. Betty Montgomery, who watched as flood waters rose to the first floor of her two-story home. After asking her upstairs tenants to evacuate, she pointed a .22 caliber rifle at her self and pulled the trigger. The coroner ruled it suicide.

The Ohio River is also readying a flood wallop, but unless developments cause the situation to worsen it appeared unlikely the turbulent Ohio would cut loose with a Sunday punch.

At Cincinnati, for instance the weather bureau forecast a crest of 57 to 58 feet by Monday. That would be 5 to 6 feet above the flood stage of 52 feet but the river has to reach a stage of 60 to 65 feet here before the damage begins to mount very much.

That's the way it stood all the way from Portsmouth to the Markland, Ind., Dam below Cincinnati. Crests of 3 to 8 feet above flood stage were forecast.

The cold wave added to the miseries of thousands of residents driven from their homes by the flooding of the Great and Little Miami rivers and other small streams.

The water started receding Thursday in towns suddenly flooded Wednesday when creeks and rivers suddenly overflowed in the wake of torrential rain.

But it was going to be a slow process getting the mud cleaned up and residences and business houses again ready for occupancy.

In Washington, meanwhile, Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) telephoned DiSalle Thursday and offered to do what he can to get federal assistance for the flooded areas.

Lausche said he talked with White House officials to determine what relief can be given to Mount Vernon, one of the hardest hit of all Ohio flood areas. The senator so advised the city's mayor, Phillip Mauger, and the president of the city's Chamber of Commerce, Fred Barry Jr.

Lausche told them in a telegram that DiSalle will certify to President Eisenhower the existence of a major disaster at Mount Vernon. This is a necessary preliminary to help that the federal government might provide. Assistance could include loans, equipment and food.

In other aid developments: The State Highway Department said it is making a team of engineers available to check bridges for storm damage, repairs and possible new weight limits.

The State Department of Agriculture announced that inspectors from its Division of Foods and Dairies will work with local health officials to watch for contamination of foods, dairy products and drugs.

A helicopter from Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus airlifted medicine to a worker of the stranded Pickway Power Plant north of Circleville when the man suffered a diabetes attack Thursday. The plant is cut off by high waters but is still operating.

A temporary pipeline was installed so that 1,700 homes in Marysville could once again re-

A massive cold wave knifed across the Eastern half of the country today in the wake of winter's most severe and destructive weather, which left a heavy toll of dead and homeless.

Storms abated, and floods in some areas appeared easing. But the punishing blows from the violent midwinter snow, sleet, and rain storms and floods left many sections staggering.

Conditions were in the disaster stage in some of the flood-stricken regions.

At least 88 persons were dead from floods and other effects of the storms in 14 states from New Mexico to the Eastern seaboard.

The fresh outbreak of cold weather was not expected to moderate much during the day, except in Southern areas.

The widespread variety of intense storms which have pounded the Eastern two thirds of the country this week ended Thursday as the front, with cold dry air clashing with warm moist air, moved across the coast and out into the Atlantic.

That left most of the country east of the Rockies covered by a giant cold air mass, with only light precipitation. This was mostly snow flurries in the Great Lakes region and light scattered showers in eastern Florida.

Nearly normal winter weather prevailed west of the Rockies.

Miss Anna Bowers moved last week into the Bowers Apt. on Pike Street recently vacated by Darl Swackhamer.

Insomnia sufferers of old ate raw white onions to woo the arms of Morpheus. Pity the poor husband or wife! Today we have more reliable methods of inducing sleep... sleeping pills and the tranquilizers for example. But, these medications are prescription items and should be taken only upon the advice of your physician. Check the obvious reasons for sleeplessness first—it may be caused by a lumpy mattress. Then, if the condition continues, see your doctor. If he recommends medication, we'll be glad to fill his prescription.

New Holland Students Take Senior Test

New Holland Principal, Robert Melick, has announced that Beverly Creamer, Margaret Dickson, Beverly Kirkpatrick, Trevor Bush and Jerry Lux represented the school in the annual senior scholarship tests, given January 9, at Jeffersonville.

He said the tests are machine graded and results will be received by the school at a later date.

Last week was the end of the first semester, with final examinations. Melick said all students were required to take the exams, regardless of their grade average.

Melick also announced drawings for the annual Fayette County basketball tournament would be held Saturday, February 7, at 10:00 a. m., in the office of County Superintendent W. J. Hilty, in Washington C. H.

THE COUNTY runs a varsity, reserve and junior high tourney, and Melick said plans call for a single elimination event in each division.

Beverly Creamer and Nancy McCrea represented New Holland high school at a dinner meeting of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday night, at the Washington C. H. Country Club.

Federal Judge, U.S. Attorney Clash in Ohio Labor Probe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal Judge James C. Connell, highly critical of government attorneys directing a federal grand jury probe into labor union affairs, says the investigation is being turned into a "newspaper probe."

Judge Connell clashed again yesterday with Department of Justice attorney Max H. Goldschein as Connell told the jury "we have to get your activities off the front page."

He asked the jurors not to read newspaper stories concerning their investigation and told the jury foreman to "take command."

Judge Connell said he wants the second floor of the Federal Building kept clear of photographers and movie cameramen. He said the investigation was being turned into a three-ring circus.

"You are here to investigate violations of the law," the judge said. "The law is being violated in the course of your sessions."

When Goldschein tried to make a statement at this point, the judge stopped him and said: "I told you to go back to the jury and get to work. I don't want any more of these leaks to newspapers."

News media have been reporting some of the testimony before the grand jury.

Skirmishing continues over subpoenas issued to more than half the witnesses ordered to appear. Reportedly 27 subpoenas were issued.

Judge Connell is to conduct a hearing this afternoon on petitions to quash 15 subpoenas on the grounds they are unreasonable and oppressive.

Three persons appeared before the jury yesterday. They were brothers Sam and John Sealish, partners in the Buckeye Cigarette Vending Co., and a man identified as a bookkeeper for the concern.
